Taking a whack at a pumpkin

Halloween means jack- o- lanterns to every 5- year- old like Tim James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry James of Route Four, who decided it was time for one of the pumpkins at his grandmother's house to be transformed for the season. Grandmother Irene James, 114 Fourth St., was happy to oblige in spite of the mess. In the top pictures, Tim goes through all the important stages in carving the jack- o- lantern, from the first plunges of the knife to the shaping of the features. Below, he demonstrates some of the fine points of jack- o- lantern making to friends Lisa Haynes, 8, Sarah Ross, 6, and Earl Phillips, 5.

Israel downs 3 Egyptian 'copters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel reported that its air and ground forces shot down three Egyptian helicopters over the southwest coast of the Sinai peninsula early today.

Israel said the air battle did not interrupt the delivery of emergency supplies of food, water and medicine to Egyptian troops stranded on the Sinai side of the Suez Canal.

Egyptian trucks with U.N. drivers were delivering the supplies for the Egyptian 3rd Army, an Israeli spokesman said, and they were being loaded on Egyptian barges and boats that were carrying them to the troops trapped on the east bank.

The spokesman said the supplies were being ferried from a part of the town of Suez, at the southern end of the canal, that is still controlled by the Egyptians.

"It is going slowly because they do not have enough boats, we believe," the spokesman said.

The International Red Cross Committee in Geneva announced that Israel was refusing to let Red Cross trucks with medical supplies pass through its lines to the Egyptian 3rd Army as long as Egypt and Syria refused to supply lists of the Israelis they captured in the war. But this deadlock apparently had no bearing on the other supply operations.

The Israelis had hinted earlier that Egyptian violations of the cease- fire could endanger U.N. supply convoys which began moving Sunday to Egyptian troops and civilians trapped behind the Israeli lines.

But the communique reporting the helicopter incident said nothing about suspending the convoys in

Bernie youth killed

A Bernie youth was killed, seven persons were injured and an accident witness was treated for shock as a result of four area traffic accidents over the weekend, the highway patrol reported today.

Gary Ray Smith, 17, of Bernie was fatally injured at 1:25 p.m. Sunday when he was struck by a car driven by Ronald J. Reasoner, 18, of Brentwood as Smith and a friend were walking along Route Z three miles east of Bernie.

The patrol said Smith stepped into the path of the Reasoner car.

The pedestrian with Smith, Anna Marie Munico, 18, of Bernie, was treated for shock at Dexter Memorial Hospital.

Diann Medley, 15, and Sheila Clark, 15, of St. Louis, passengers in the car, received cuts and bruises but were not hospitalized.

Smith was born Aug. 3, 1956 in St. Louis to Tee Jay and Thelma Smedley Smith, who survive.

He worked at IXL Manufacturing Co. in Bernie and was a senior at Bernie High School.

Also surviving are two brothers, Bobby and Vincent Smith of Bernie; five sisters, Debera Parrish of St. Louis and Marilynn, Sherrie, Kathy and Michelle Smith of the Shooting victim critical

SCOTT CITY-- Herman Edward Davis, 67, of 311 Cape Street was reported in critical condition at Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau after an apparent suicide attempt this morning.

The Scott County sheriff's department said Davis reportedly shot himself at 10:25 a.m. in the right side of the head with a .22- caliber revolver in the back yard of his home. He was found by his wife and daughter, who called an ambulance.

No reason was given for the apparent suicide attempt.

Fire guts 2 rooms of home

A house fire at 10:45 p.m. Sunday gutted two rooms of the Harold Mims home 136 Reuben St.

The fire swept through the living room, kitchen and a hallway before being extinguished by firemen.

Fire Chief Larry Linnemeyer said the cause of the fire was unknown.

At 1:30 a.m. today firemen were called to 330 Pam St. on a false alarm.

At 6:25 a.m. today they were called to Shuffit's Nursing Home No. 3 to extinguish a burning transformer on a power pole behind the home.

At 7:39 a.m. today an x-ray machine shorted out at Missouri Delta Community Hospital. Only minor damage was done, firemen said.

Alvarez gets 18 months

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)— The driver of a truck that crashed and killed 10 Mexican migrant workers Aug. 1 near Sikeston was sentenced to 18 months in prison today.

Judge James H. Meredith of U. S. District Court imposed the sentence on Octavio Alvarez- Ortiz, 39, of Orange Grove, Tex., at a hearing in Cape Girardeau. He faced a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

Alvarez, charged in a 12- count indictment with illegal transportation of alients, pleaded guilty in St. Louis Oct. 1 to one count of the indictment. The government dropped the other 11 counts against Alvarez today.

The government said Alvarez was the driver of a flat- bed truck carrying 47 illegal migrant workers in the predawn hours from Little Rock to Chicago. The truck crashed on Interstate 55 near Sikeston in southeastern Missouri, killing 10 and injuring most of the other passengers.

Library branch to open

MORLEY — The Morley branch of the Riverside Regional Library will open next week, beginning with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The new Morley Regional Center No. 5 is located in the Morley Community Building.

Mrs. Margaret Masters, Morley city clerk, will combine her duties in city hall with those of librarian. This will enable residents to make use of the library during the same hours that city business is conducted.

The idea for the Riverside Regional Library's new Morley center was first conceived when the city began plans for renovating the former Morley State Bank building into a community center. Included in renovation plans was space for a library.

Mayor C. B. Taylor contacted Earl H. Oldham, director of Riverside Regional Library based in Jackson, about the possibility of such a center being established. Plans moved rapidly and equipping of the Morley branch progressed with work on the community center building.

Other centers of the Riverside Regional Library system include the main office in Jackson and branches in Perryville, Altenburg, Illmo and Benton.

The public libraries in Sikeston and Chaffee cooperate with Riverside Regional Library to form a library network that serves all but a small portion of Scott County.

The library is administered by a 15- member board of trustees, appointed by the County Courts of Perry, Cape Girardeau and Scott counties.

Scott County trustees presently are Mrs. L. H. Shipman and Theon Schlosser Jr. of Illmo, Mrs. Ray Marshall and Mrs. Albert Dame of Sikeston Route One, and Mrs. Robert Rosenquist of Kelso.

6 thefts reported

Police today reported that six thefts occurred over the weekend.

A tape player and tape were taken from a truck belonging to John McGehee, 713 Kendall, sometime between 8:30 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today.

The tape player was valued at $45 and the tape at $5. The truck was parked in front of the McGehee home at the time of the theft.

Walter Farmer, 1508 E. Gladys, reported the theft of a tape player and 15 tapes from his car between 7:30 and 11:40 p.m. Saturday while the car was parked in the Hart's Bakery parking lot.

The tape deck was valued at $28 and the tapes at $50.

A stereo record player valued at $120 was taken from the Harry Jones home, 309 Luther, sometime Saturday or Sunday. Entry to the house was gained through a window.

A voltage meter valued at $100 was taken from a pickup truck belonging to Orbin Moore, 235 W. Gladys, sometime between 2 and 10:25 p.m. Sunday.

The truck was parked beside the house at the time of the theft.

Four tires valued at $120 were taken between 6:30 p.m. Friday and 6:30 a.m. Saturday from the Slusher- Baker Home Center on South Main.

Halloween decorations were taken from the front porch of the Jim Sickal home, 228 Moore Ave., between 10 p.m. Friday and 7 a.m. Saturday. The decorations consisted of a costume, pumpkin and mop.

Thefts of other Halloween decorations were reported, but police had no information on the thefts.

Retires after 34 years

Harris recalls early days with patrol

By MARY NOLEN

Eugene Harris joined the Missouri State Highway Patrol as a patrolman at Willow Springs on Oct. 1, 1939, launching a career he was to follow for 34 years until his retirement as a patrol sergeant on Oct. 1.

When asked why he wanted to become a trooper, Harris replied, "Because of the glamour and it appeared to be exciting work."

Harris said he had never considered any other type of work. "I just wouldn't have been happy anywhere else," he said.

At the time Harris was promoted to sergeant in 1953, he had three other men under his authority. The three were E. E. Wright of Cape Girardeau, James Dickerson of Jefferson City and W. E. Lemonds of Sikeston, all of whom are now lieutenants. Lemonds is commander of the new Troop E satellite office in Sikeston.

Harris said the first patrol car assigned to him was a black 1941 Ford which was equipped with a spotlight and a red light on the bumper. The only communication he had with the main office was by an Am radio. "The office could talk to us but we couldn't talk to them," he said.

According to Harris, there were certain designated locations in the zone people could call if they needed a trooper. In practically every town the Jaycees would place a red light on a pole. "When we drove into town and the light was on, we knew a trooper was needed," he said.

In an extreme emergency, the radio dispatcher would send out a code signal to the trooper which meant either call in immediately, or call in as soon as possible.

"A big disadvantage of our radios back then was that every time we drove under a highline wire the voices on the radio would be blocked out," Harris recalled.

Since the time he became a patrolman, Harris says the biggest change has been in manpower. "In 1942 when I was transferred to Sikeston from Poplar Bluff, there was only one other patrolman stationed at Sikeston," he said.

Eugene Harris

"We worked 12 hours a day seven days a week, with three days off during the month," he remarked. "We just had to trade day and night shifts," he added.

Harris remembers that sometimes he would go to work in the morning and not get home until three days later. "I would not even see my children, except when they were asleep, for as long as two weeks," he stated.

Next to increased manpower, Harris said the biggest changes include improved communications, working conditions and leisure time. "When you get off duty, now, chances are you won't have to go back out unless an emergency arises," Harris said.

Harris said new troopers now receive more education than they used to," "We went through only six weeks of training and now they have six months," he said.

Before becoming a patrolman he was employed for three years as a guard at Algoa Reformatory in Jefferson City.

He was born and grew up in Atchison County one and a half miles from Iowa. He attended school at Westboro and one year at Tarkia College.

On Sept. 23, 1939, he married Maurie Stokes of Jefferson City. They have four children: Miss Beverly Harris of the home, Mrs. Vikke Voliva of Tacoma, Wash., Bill Harris of Miami, Fla., and Mike Harris of Sanford, Fla.

ABILITY IS WHAT COUNTS

The Christopher News Notes reports the following story:

In the fall of 1968, a young paraplegic veteran who had also lost both hands came into the the personnel office of Bankers Trust Company in New York. The personnel officer saw him as "a very sharp young fellow who could really do a job in the bank." He was hired.

Following that experience, the personnel officer reasoned "there must be other disabled people looking for jobs who are perfectly capable of performing clerical functions. And we started from that point to seek them out."

Today, Bankers Trust, with a total work force of 10,000 has 1,500 Vietnam veterans on its payroll. More than 150 of them are disabled, with a disability rating of 50 per cent or more. They have proven to be highly satisfactory workers.

It is estimated that there are more than 200,000 veterans incapacitated by the Vietnam War who are not working.

What can you do? The Christophers suggest that you do some checking: what is your church or community organization doing to help find jobs for disabled veterans who can work? Do you belong to a veteran's organization? Does your boss, supervisor or foreman know of the job-related abilities of handicapped persons? If you want to know more, write to Harold Russell, % The President's Committee on the Employment of the Handicapped, Washington, D. C. 20210. Disabled veterans have a lot to offer!

SOMETHING'S COOKING IN SCOTLAND

A pilot project in the small locality of Westfield, Scotland, may help American housewives cook their meals in the future.

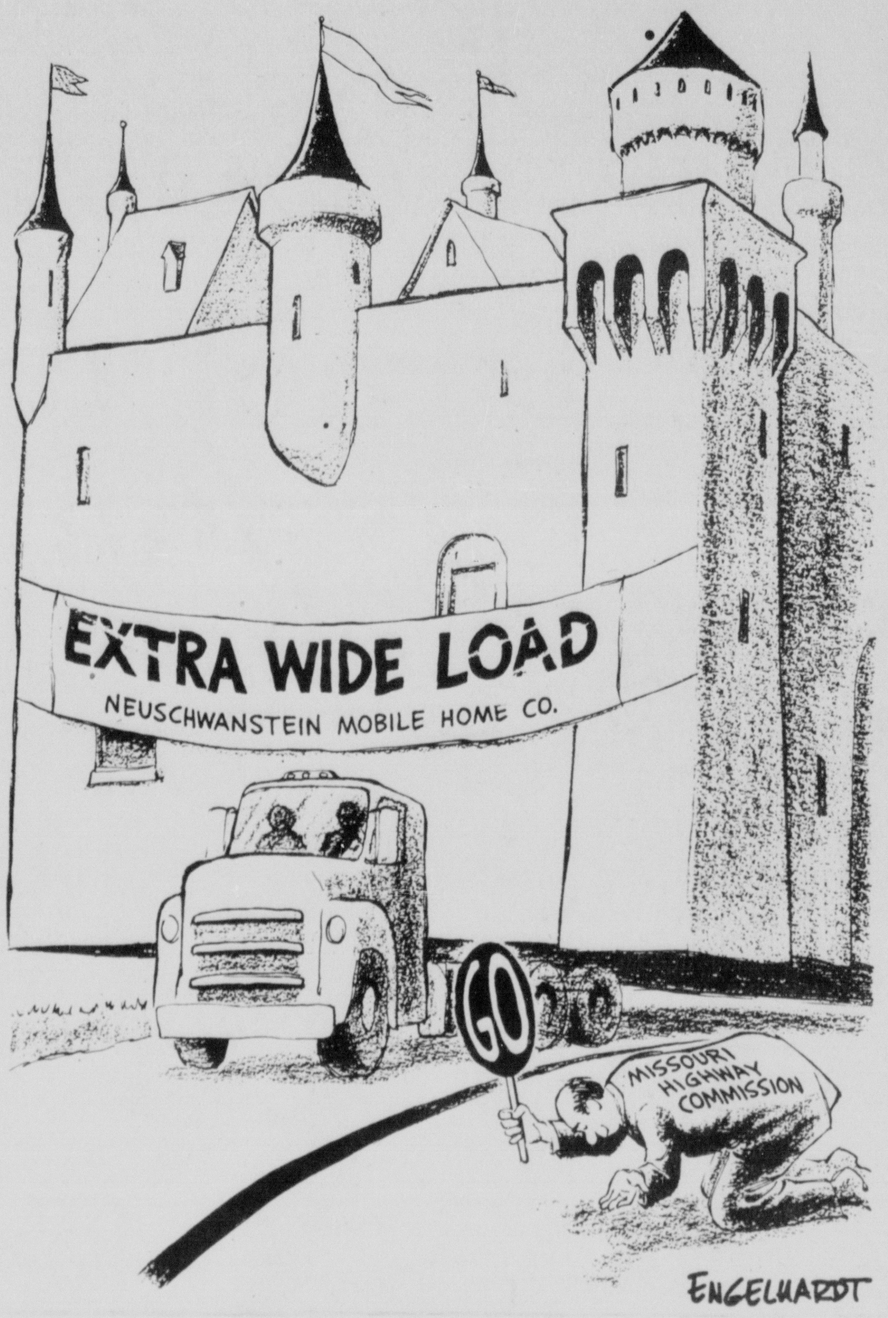

A Scottish subsidiary of Continental Oil Company will operate a demonstration plant in Westfield to test the commercial feasibility of upgrading the heating power of gas made from coal to about the equivalent of natural gas.

The project is beingfunded by a group of U. S. companies headed by Continental, in association with British Gas. If successful, it will provide the last "missing link" in the commercial chain of processes necessary to convert America's huge coal reserves to gas.

Coal gassification is not new, but producing large quantities that will burn with the heat of natural gas will be something new. Up to now, it has been done only on a small scale in laboratories.

The National Safety Council has noted that safety belts are now available to about seven out of eight of all passenger car occupants, but the belts are being used only about 40 per cent of the time, on the average. As a consequence, slightly more than one out of three car occupants are indicated to have been using their safety belts at any given time. Current information indicates that if all passenger car occupants used belts at all times, such use would save 8,000 to 10,000 lives annually.

GOVERNOR BY-PASSING LEGISLATURE

A Missouri Citizens Committee studied Missouri government for a long time, then recommended consolidations that would bring its cumbersome present structure down to a dozen or more departments.

The House had a simplified version of the laws needed to implement the recommendations, the Senate had another. A compromise proved to still be too cumbersome, and was vetoed by the Governor.

Both Senate and House have promised a new effort to come in with a satisfactory bill that will simplify our state government.

Now Governor Bond by-passing those two bodies, whose duty it is to provide the guidelines, has announced he will appoint a "Citizens Committee", and furnish a plan of his own.

If we've ever seen a blatant example of useless effort, this is it. With both the House and the Senate alienated because Gov. Bond is usurping their responsibilities, any plan he brings forth, no matter how good, has about as much chance as a snowball in Hades.

A FALSE ASSUMPTION

A leading prescription drug industry spokesman, sometime ago, drew attention to the tendency of administrators of drug regulations to play it safe rather than risk the ire of congressional critics on the handling of new drug applications and other matters pertaining to the marketing of prescription drugs. He said, "The reaction on many occasions is to bend to the wishes of the critic, whether or not he has any constituency or whether or not there is scientific or legal validity to the charges."

Now there is damning evidence that the fears expressed by this drug industry spokesman are more than justified. A 22- member committee of the nation's leading scientists and physicians have expressed the opinion that federal controls over drug research are clogging productivity and may be keeping useful drugs off the market. The group warned, "We see disturbing signs that we may be unwittingly following a course which, in the end, may mean loss of leadership for the U. S. in the rapeutic research and development." The committee noted that new drug introductions in this country declined from 31 in 1961 to five in 1970. Worldwide, the comparable figures were 51 outside the U. S. in 1961 and 55 in 1970. The head of the 22- member committee, Dr. Robert Dripps, called for "a critical examination not just of FDA (Food and Drug Administration) program and operations, but of the total system of drug development, evaluation, and regulation in this country.

For too long a time, the popular assumption has been that a new law or regulation is, per se, in behalf of the public interest. Such an assumption is a fallacy resting on the ancient myth that public servants are somehow endowed with greater wisdom than ordinary citizens.

SURVIVAL IS THE ISSUE

In ways that no one can now fully evaluate, the present is a far cry from that day, a generation ago, when the U. S. emerged from World War II as the mightiest and most secure power on Earth. During the 25 years following World War II, we had what the top executive of a leading space and commercial manufacturing concern calls "... a strong protective shield" which gave the people of America security of a kind denied a great many countries where people live out their lives in fear of dominant neighbors.

The executive, Mr. Willard F. Rockwell, Jr., of the North American Rockwell Corporation, in expressing the deepest concern over declining U. S. military capability, reminda his countrymen of what was accomplished in the security of that shield: "... science and the U. S. economy together had the longest period of sustained growth, discovery, innovation and new industry development in history ... That technology brought to three quarters of the American people greater riches, more comfort, more leisure - time enjoyment, and better health than ever before enjoyed in any other period in history ... working in confident freedom, we introduced entirely new industries. We opened new worlds in space. We brought hope for progress to billions of underprivileged people. Could we have accomplished all this without that protective shield?" It is highly unlikely. The cynicisms that are following Viet Nam, along with unreasoned hostility to the military, are taking their toll.

Noting the words of the President's Blue Ribbon National Defense Panel which warned that, "in this coming decade neither the vital interests nor the lives and freedom of Americans will be secure," Mr. Rockwell urges his fellow citizens to join in an effort to awaken the nation to the danger that lies ahead. This is a world where the old law of survival of the fittest still reigns.

In our country, the idea of Memorial Day had its beginning in the late 1800's. However, the custom of setting aside a certain period of time to honor the dead is as old as history itself. Ancient Romans paid homage to their ancestors in a week-long festival, called Parentalia. On the last day offerings of food were made to the "shades" of the departed and the tombs were decorated with wreaths and flowers. During the same era, the Druids in Gaul, Britain, and Ireland believed that the lord of death, called Saman, passed judgment on all the poor souls who had to inhabit the bodies of animals during the year. By offering gifts through their priests, the Druids hoped to soften the cruel heart of Saman and soften his judgement. The early Christians adopted some of these rites, such as decorating the graves with wreaths and flowers.

PRESIDENTS FLOP IN SECOND TERMS

Shortly before the Watergate revelations cast doubt on whether he would serve out his constitutionally and electorally alloted "four more years," President Nixon suggested to Congress that it might favorably consider an amendment limiting future presidents to a single term of six years.

There is at least one group still actively campaigning for repeal of the 22nd Amendment, which limits a president to two four- year terms (or one term if he served more than two years of the term of some other person who had been elected president).

It has been charged that the 22nd Amendment was passed by a Republican Congress in 1947 as a sort of postmortem revenge on Franklin D. Roosevelt, the only man to have been elected president more than twice.

In the light of history since then, it may not be unreasonable to suggest that FDR's successors, both Democratic and Republican, as well as the nation itself, might have been better served had Congress seen fit to limit each president to just one tour of duty - either the four years to which he was elected in his own right or, if he succeeded from the vice - presidency, to the remaining term of his predecessor.

With the exception of John F. Kennedy, who did not live to run for re-election, every president since FDR scored his greatest successes in his first term, whether it was of shorter or longer length, only to see his second term blighted in one way or another.

First was Harry S. Truman, who between 1945 and 1948 presided over the conclusion of World War II, the rebuilding of Europe through the Marshall Plan and the thwarting of a Communist takeover in Greece. Then came the Berlin Blockade, Russia's explosion of an atom bomb, influence peddling scandals in Washington and allegations of high- level treason, the dismal war in Korea and its accompanying inflation.

The second term of the immensely popular Dwight D. Eisenhower was pretty much four blah years, and when he retired to make way for his successor, it was after a campaign in which the Democrats hammered on the theme that the county had fallen behind in everything from missiles to space exploration to education to racial progress to economic growth.

Both Lyndon B. Johnson and Richard M. Nixon achieved historic accomplishments in their early presidential years, the one on the domestic front, the other in international affairs. The woes that later befell both are too fresh in memory to need recapitulation.

The really interesting thing is that Truman, Eisenhower, Johnson and Nixon were all either elected or re-elected by impressive margins and that, in fact, the greater their electoral victories, the more presipitous their subsequent fall from popularity and effectiveness.

It is as if events comspire against a man after he, as we say, received a "mandate" from the people and that crises he avoided or surmounted before suddently accumulate beyond his ability to restore them.

It is also as if we very quickly weary of the man to whom we have given our mandate and impatiently speculate about a possible successor while the incumbent's body is still flushed with life.

Since World War II at any rate, it seems to be a peculiar perversity of history that the more we like a president at the height of his career, the happier we are when he leaves office.

GOVERNMENT-IMPOSED ECONOMIC CONTROLS HAVE FAILED

In the midst of all our economic uncertainty, one thing is for sure -- the initiation of government controls has solved nothing. Moreover, the continuance of these controls has only complicated our economic problems. After two years, the government-imposed controls have been proven an ineffective means of combating inflation. As a matter of fact, prices have continuously risen during the first three "phases" and the most recent "freeze."

Furthermore, many of the shortages we have faced were the long- run results of the recent government freeze on prices. Moreover, these controls have handicapped production, making operations inefficient. The nation's leading business and labor leaders both agree that the government- imposed controls are no solution to our economic problems.

The role of government is to protect the lives and property of its citizens. However, when government intervention obstructs the processes of our profit- motive, personal enterprise system, it only creates more problems than it solves. We must be careful not to let these controls be another step toward leading our Republic to socialism. The solution to our economic problems lies not in government- imposed controls, but in a return to those profit-motive, personal enterprise principles which enabled our Republic to become the greatest economic power in the world. Slashing Meany's Money? Labor Chief's Personal Assault on Nixon May Cost It $40 Million Govt. Subsidy

WASHINGTON — Though Dick Nixon has an oversupply of hostitities for any one man, he was sufficiently and loudly irked into declaring war on a broad new front, meaning George Meany, when the labor leader, then in Florida waiting leisurely for a long train ride home, charged him with "dangerous emotional instability."

One White House official who has helped wear a path across Lafayette Park from the Mansion to labor's national headquarters in the past to brief Meany on all vital domestic and foreign developments, gurgled with rage. When finally articulate, he said, "That does it." That's all of his quote which is printable.

Few yet realize the global and national implications of this feud which was whipped from the political to the personal by Meany's most searing insult of his long career.

For the moment, only insiders see the total significance of this bitter struggle which can end, it seems to them, only in the political destruction of one of the dueling duet. This evidence is in the fact that Secretary of Labor Peter Brennan, after months of goading by Meany, was directed by the Oval Office to reply sharply to Meany. Thus came Brennan's first public retort (privately the language would have melted a hot line) to Meany's almost year-long mocking of the Cabinet officer.

"I was shocked to hear the statement attributed to Mr. Meany concerning the mental health of President Nixon," said Brennan officially, though privately he used the word "disgusted" amid a flow of prized Chaucerian scatology.

Brennan said he met with the President a few days ago. Asserted Brennan, "I found the President forceful, sharp and alert as always and, considering the times, he seemed surprisingly relaxed."

Until the issuance of the statement Wednesday night, Brennan had been under wraps. Breaking the silence means recognition finally that Meany just won't take any appeasement short of Dick Nixon's mental as well as political destruction.

This could cost American labor over $40 million in annual federal subsidies. Not many observers are aware that the government supplies three of Meany's international operations with some $8 million to $9 million year. The money comes from the Agency for International Development. It is handed to the American Institute For Free Labor Development, the African—American Labor Center, and the Asian— American Free Labor Institute.

All three in effect are run by the national AFL-CIO's international affairs department. And all three are headed by Meany himself.

The money pays for the training of foreign labor leaders on three continents --- some of whom were among the 127 international delegates to the recent AFL-CIO Convention.

Insiders know that Dick Nixon has followed this work closely. The money has been poured out with his consent. Since he is convinced now that Meany isn't just bear hugging him but really wants to crush him, high White House officials can't see how he can continue to supply these funds to his most powerful and caustic and daring enemy.

Further, other federal agencies hand big unions well over $30 million annually for all sorts of manpower training and social action. Mostly this money goes from the Labor Dept. to the construction unions. Mostly, it is Pete Brennan now who approves the appropriations.

This is obvious from scores of memoranda in his files. It took Brennan months to accustom himself to Washington's bureaucratic infighting and social life. But he has learned. He knows the power is where the money and his bureaus are.

He knows how important the manpower training funds are to the construction unions which use them to develop black skills and thus, while filling sociological obligations, ease out from under the heat of black community criticism. Pete, who has been dealing quietly with the AFL-CIO building and construction trades chiefs, will let them know whose hand is counting out the money.

He won't soon forget what he was told by these leaders when on return from Japan recently he inquired why there was no written invitation following the oral one to speak at the construction trades convention preceding the big show in Bal Harbour.

He was told that he had been scheduled. Meany was informed and, according to these reports, insisted on being scheduled to follow Brennan to the Platform. Meany would have cut Pete to ribbons.

So the building trade unionists cut out Brennan. Now the feud is officially raging. These powerful union chiefs must come to Brennan for a myriad of favors and things of value to their unions. Pete will take his cue from his angry President.

Nor do insiders overlook the subdued cues sparking from the feud. Labor Dept. officials have the power to investigate unions to death, reverse their elections and pick up all their records.

Now that the wraps are off, the probers will be sent in by Labor Dept. officials who are the counterpart of their liberal Justice Dept. colleagues.

So it looks like a long hot-tempered winter.

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Young Nixon Blames President for His Link-Up With Vesco

WASHINGTON — The President's nephew, Donald A. Nixon, blamed the President -- whom he called the "great god in the White House" -- for sending him to work in Europe for financier Robert Vesco.

Several weeks after young Donald arrived in Geneva he wrote to a friend in California and complained about having to associate with Vesco.

"This place is beginning to get me down due to the people I have to work with," Donald wrote to John Meier, a former neighbor. "Gil Straub (a Vesco executive) is an ok guy, but this Vesco fella and I don't get it on.

"Oh well, I got myself into this by letting my parents and the great god in the White House pull wool over my eyelids ...."

'GOOD OLD LETTUCE'

Later in the letter, Donald said, "I'll know where I fit in this organization in the next couple of weeks, that is, if I don't happen to kill Vesco first."

Although his father, F. Donald Nixon, once insisted to my associate George Clifford that young Donald worked for International Controls in Geneva rather than Vesco's more shady Investors Overseas Services, Donald gave IOS as his return address. In a July 1971 letter, Donald wrote:

"I believe this to be something which you and I and IOS will be able to handle in order to bring forth fast quantities of good old lettuce."

Donald went to join Vesco in Geneva in July 1971. Previously, he had lived in the California mountains with what his father called "hippies." Tony Ulasewicz, a former New York policeman who was used by the White House for a number of varied assignments, was sent to the mountains to bring Donald back.

TALKED TO EHRLICHMAN

Donald's father also told Clifford that presidential aide John Ehrlichman had talked to young Donald at San Clemente for several hours about keeping his nose clean.

We recently reported that we have affidavits from people who swear they heard F. Donald Nixon say he never became involved in business deals without the permission of his brother, the President. The White House denied any veto power over Donald's activities.

One of young Donald's letters, however, seems to agree with the affidavits.

In November 1971, Donald wrote to Meier: "So far, I've met with some pretty interisting (sic) people and have hopes of doing business with them. One of them is an American citizen, but was born in Peking and has the OK from the WH for me to do business with him ..." By "WH," Donald apparently meant the White House.

HUGHES SUING

Meier, the recipient of the letters, once was a consultant to eccentric billionaire Howard Hughes. Meier is now being sued by Hughes and is under indictment on tax charges. He insists, however, that both the Hughes suit and the tax case were motivated by his business dealings with Don Nixon and his son.

"Don told me that Ehrlichman was having my phones tapped," Meier told us. "That was before the IRS began its audit of me."

In 1972, Meier was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in New Mexico. During that campaign, there was a break-in at the office of Meier's campaign manager, Thomas Benavides, in Alberquerque. Benavides, who was a leader in the New Mexico Democrats for Nixon movement during the presidential campaign, told us nothing was taken from his office except papers belonging to Meier.

The burglars, however, did not get Meier's papers on his relationship with the Donald Nixons.

FOOTNOTE: Vesco is now a fugitive in Costa Rica, where President Jose Figueres has refused to extradite him to stand trial in the United States. Former Attorney General John Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans, indicted with Vesco for conspiracy, are awaiting trial in New York.

Representative to discuss SS payments

On Jan. 1, 1974, the Social Security Administration will begin making monthly Supplemental Security Income payments to people in financial need who are blind, disabled, or 65 and over.

A representative will be at the Heritage House, 305 Cresap St., at 9:30 a.m. Thursday to discuss the action and other aspects of Social Security.

If a person is presently getting state or local assistance, he does not have to apply for the federal payments and should receive information about it before Jan. 1, 1974.

Breakfast held

United Way workers held their kickoff breakfast this morning to start this year's United Way drive. The goal of the week- long campaign is to raise $50,000 to aid 11 local agencies. The Rev. Car of drowning victim found

SCOTT CITY — A car owned by Harry Daniel Webb, 22, of Scott City, an apparent drowning victim whose body was found last week on the Mississippi River bank near Scott City, has been located, according to the Scott County sheriff's department.

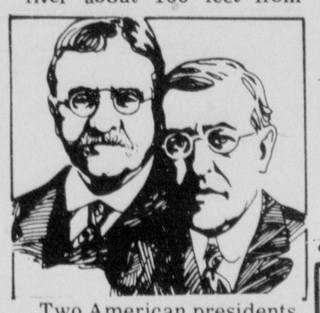

The car was located Saturday afternoon in the river about 100 feet from shore near the Thebes, Ill., ferry landing in about 20 feet of water.

The sheriff's department said an attempt will be made in the next few days to remove the car.

Webb had been dead about three weeks when his body was found. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee Webb of Scott City.

Cox to appear before Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fired special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox, who says he wanted more than just the presidential tapes, was to answer before the Senate Judiciary Committee today as lead-off witness at hearings into his ouster.

The hearings open during a week in which President Nixon's acting attorney general is to name a new special prosecutor to replace Cox.

Most senators, however, had their own idea about how to select a man to investigate the administration.

Central to this latest potential collision between Nixon and Congress is whether a new prosecutor will get access to sensitive White House materials, which could be evidence in one or another of the cases broadly lumped under the title of Watergate.

Cox said Sunday the nine presidential tape recordings he sought "were clearly only a first step in seeking a great deal of important evidence from the White House."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., a member of the Judiciary Committee, said he would seek to determine whether Cox believes he was fired because the trail in the Watergate investigation was leading to President Nixon.

Other senators promised questions about Cox's investigation into the Nixon administration's handling of the ITT case and the dairy industry's contributions to the Nixon reelection campaign.

The start of the Senate hearing was delayed until 2 p. m. because Capitol Police Sgt. A. W. Husted suffered a heart attack in the committee room.

The room was cleared to allow doctors to treat Husted, described by fellow officers as being in too critical a condition to be moved.

Cox arrived early and conferred with Committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., in Eastland's office.

The new prosecutor envisioned by Nixon is to be named this week by Acting Atty. Gen. Robert Bork.

Time magainze said Sunday that Nixon had rejected one potential Bork nominee, apparently on political grounds. Time did not name the person rejected.

Bork indicated Saturday he was considering some method of sending the name of his nominee to Congress for its approval.

A majority of the Senate, however, already has endorsed a bill that would have a new prosecutor picked by U. S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica.

Proponents of this plan, including Cox and a principal Senate sponsor, Indiana Democrat Birch Bayh, acknowledge there could be arguments over its constitutionality.

But they contend the plan would be upheld in what would be another court struggle over Watergate. Their object is to avoid having a prosecutor again subject to firing by Nixon.

Cox was fired by Nixon Oct. 20 after refusing to go along with a compromise plan that would have furnished an account of the nine White House tapes to the Watergate grand jury and to the Senate Watergate Committee.

Public concerns dinner-seminar set in November

The Alliance of Alumni Association of University of Missouri- Columbia will sponsor a public concerns dinner- seminar in Sikeston Nov. 19 at the location and time to be announced later.

Counties included in the event will be Cape Girardeau, Scott, Mississippi, Wayne, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Dunklin, Butler and Stoddard.

Plans are currently being developed to provide an open- forum type of discussion for the benefit of area legislators, local volunteers in the public resources effort and university administrators.

The alliance believes this kind of meeting will help alumni, civic leaders and legislators to communicate clearly with the university administration and develop new and more effective levels of understanding.

Fictional Boy Added to History

THE WIND AT MORNING. By James V. Marshall. Morrow. 208 Pages. $5.95.

Adding an imaginary character to history to fictionalize an event is hardly new, but it often brightens a dark corner and leads to reading additional material on a subject. Evidently James V. Marshall decided this device would give additional insight into the first voyage around the world.

It was autumn 1519, when five ships and 277 men sailed from Spain into the unknown. Captain-General Ferdinand Magellan, who had worked for Portugal, soon found opposition among the Spanish nobility who captained four of the vessels. There was mutiny, there were storms, there was hardship and fear of the unknown.

Through the eyes of the page Juan de Vizcaya, a youth looking for a name, we see the golden land of Verzin where women are beautiful. Juan proves his bravery in the harsh winter at the tip of South America, as the crew seeks the hidden passage to the Pacific.

24 treated

Twenty- four accident patients were treated over the weekend in the emergency room at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

'Boss of the Year' chosen Wednesday

Joe McCord was chosen Boss of the Year at the annual meeting of the Sikeston Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night at Ramada Inn.

This is an annual event to which club members invited their bosses, and one of them is selected as Boss of the Year.

Mrs. Tatty Tope crowned McCord with a Halloween crown as the "Boss." Each boss was given a Halloween hat, and the one who had the winning number inside when the hats were removed was the chosen person.

Entertainment was provided by Sour Mash, a local country and western group made up of present and former Sikeston High School students, including Chuck Hanna, Greg Tanner, Ken Harbin and Terry Teachout.

Couple observes golden anniversary

VANDUSER — Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wilson of Vanduser celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Sarasota, Fla., on Aug. 28 with the families of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilson and Pam, Butch, Kelly and Brian of Sarasota and Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Harper and Lisa and Mrs. Jean Daffern of Simi Valley, Calif.

Grandchildren Tampa Harper and Robert Daffern of Simi Valley were unable to attend but did phone their grandparents to wish them a happy anniversary.

Leona Harper of Ft. Myers, Fla., also attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson eloped to Cairo, Ill. where they were married on Aug. 28, 1923. Except for short periods of time, their entire life together has been spent at Vanduser, where they received belated congratulations from many friends and other family members on their return.

A dinner party was held at Cyro's in Venice, Fla., in honor of the bride and groom, who cut a two-tiered wedding cake. A champagne toast to the couple was also offered.

Ann Landers

Tranquilizers can affect judgment

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing about a problem that must be pretty prevalent now that people are living longer and every effort is being made to keep oldsters in good health and involved in the mainstream of life.

Dad is 76. He has been driving a car for over 50 years. He has had a few minor accidents, bent fenders, a sudden meeting with a garage door and the like, but nothing to speak of. In the last two years he has been very lucky. His eyesight is failing and his reflexes have slowed up considerably.

I've asked him to give up driving and suggested several alternatives. He becomes furious and accuses me of trying to make an old man out of him.

He loves his independence and I hate to hurt his pride, but when I think of him driving a carload of white-haired ladies to church I get weak in the knees.

Last month I thought my problem was solved when he told me he had to get his license renewed and would be taking a "test." Unfortunately, it was only a written test and he passed with flying colors. What now?--- Worried

Dear W.: I get this same letter every week at least ten times. Only the signatures are different.

The solution lies with the state legislatures. Some already have made the driving test a mandatory part of the renewal procedure for citizens over 65. ALL states should do so.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been thinking about the woman whose doctor had prescribed tranquilizers to "relax" her. She impetuously took an extra pill before going to a wedding reception. To her shame, she blurted out an excessively warm compliment to the bride. Immediately after, she felt like a fool.

You assured her that a genuine compliment is always appreciated and you admonished her to stop chastising herself. But you ignored the central problem which the writer also chose to pass over.

People who are on tranquilizers should be aware that the medication might affect their judgment. Some pills tend to make people talkative and uninhibited. They sometimes say things they wish they hadn't.

It is important for the doctor to hear about all side effects, both physical and psychological. Unless the patient informs him he cannot know.

Please, Ann, retrace your steps and advise the woman to tell her doctor that the extra pill loosened the hinges on her tongue.--- Corpus Christi

Dear Corp: Thank you for the suggestion. I've retraced--- and here's your letter.

Dear Ann Landers: Come out of the clouds, for Lord's sake, and get down here with us humans. I am sick to death of your holier- than- thou attitude toward women whose husbands give them a well-deserved belt in the mouth.

Don't you know that a man can be pushed to the brink and something's got to give; A crack in the teeth can be a wonderful tension- breaker. It's also a lot healtheir than keeping all that anger bottled up.

My husband hauls off and slugs me every few months and I don't mind. He feels better and so do I because he never hits me unless I deserve it. So why don't you come off it?--- Real Happy

Dear R. H.: If you don't mind a crack in the teeth every few months, it's all right with me. I hope you have a good dentist.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers's booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self- addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654.

12 wills come before Probate

BENTON — Twelve probate of wills were heard before Judge John H. Sides for the week ending Oct. 26:

W. L. Morgan, deceased: Order refusing letters for spouse.

It is authorized by the court that Minnie Morgan, surviving spouse, may be empowered to collect, sue for, and retain the aforesaid personal property; It is ordered, adjudged and decreed that no letters shall be issued on said estate, unless, on the application of creditors or other parties interested, the existence of other or further property is shown.

Gertrude G. McCord, deceased: Inventory filed and recorded.

Now comes Joseph H. McCord and Robert A. McCord Jr. executors of the estates and present their inventory and appraisement of the estate which is examined, approved, ordered filed and recorded.

Fred D. Horman, deceased: Finding and order discharging administrators.

Comes now the administrators and file final receipts showing that distributions have been made to the persons of the amount due them in accordance with their distributions. It is therefore ordered by the court that administrator and their sureties are discharged and released.

Emma Patterson, deceased: Affidavit to establish title of distributes other than spouse and unmarried minor children to property, real or personal of decedent where total estate is less than $5,000.

Now comes Mildred Wilson and presents her affidavit to establish title of distributees other than spouse and unmarried minor children to property, real or personal of decedent, where estate is less than $5,000 together with certificate of clerk of the Probate Court which is ordered examined and filed.

Joseph E. Miller, deceased: Inventory filed and recorded.

Now comes Andrew C. Miller, executor of the estate and presents his inventory and appraisement which is examined, ordered filed and recorded.

Herman Dees, deceased: Order refusing letters for spouse.

It is authorized by the court that Dorothy V. Dees, surviving spouse, may be empowered to collect, sue for, and retain the aforesaid personal property. It is therefore adjudged and decreed that no letters shall be issued on said estate unless on the application of creditors or other parties interested in the existence or other further property is shown.

Stephen Barton, deceased: Inventory filed and recorded.

Now comes Thomas L. Arnold, executor of the estate and presents his inventory and appraisement of the estatee which is approved, ordered filed and recorded.

Sidney Cohen, deceased: Report of inheritance tax appraiser filed and recorded.

Now comes Thomas L. Arnold, appointed Inheritance Tax Appraiser in the estate to determine the amount of Inheritance tax due to the state of Missouri and present his report which is taken up, examined, approved, ordered filed and recorded.

Nova R. Dufur, deceased: Demand filed.

Now comes Jim S. Green for Hux and Green, attorneys and presents his claim against the estate in the sum of $150 which is examined and ordered filed.

Julia Spradlin Sharp, deceased: Inventory filed and recorded.

Now come Thomas L. Arnold, executor of the estate, and presents his inventory and appraisement which is examined, approved and order filed and recorded.

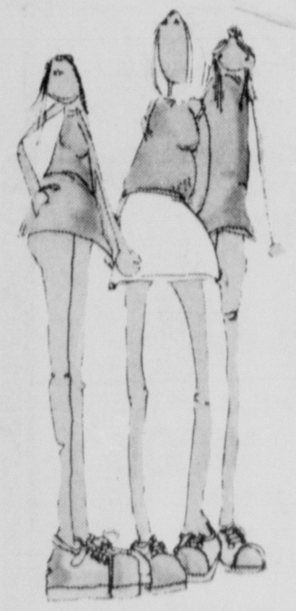

Charles A. Stubbs, deceased; Demand filed and allowed.

It is ordered by the court that said claims be paid out of funds of estate together with interest rate of six per cent per annum from the date of allowance together with cost incurred, they include: Nunnelee Funeral Chapel Inc., $1,942.08; St. Francis Hospital, $1,104.79 and Dr. H. V. Ashley, Jr., $323.

Vickie Darlene Preston, a minor: Order for special allowance.

Now comes Weber Gilmore, guardian of the estate and filed his written petition for special allowance as follows: That the said minor is getting married Nov. 3, 1973 and is need of money for her wedding. The court being fully advised finds that the allowance of requested should be made. It is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed that the guardian is authorized to withdraw from the saving account $250.

Kennedy favored over Reagan in recent survey

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Respondents to the latest Gallup Poll chose Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for president over Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

In the poll, 50 per cent of the 1,576 adults questioned picked Kennedy. Reagan was named by 43 percent. Five per cent were undecided, and two per cent said they would choose neither candidate.

The survey was conducted between Oct. 6-8, and the respondents were asked: "If Gov. Ronald Reagan were the Republican candidate and Sen. Edward Kennedy were the Democratic candidate, which would you like to see win?"

In another poll taken early in October, Reagan was the leading choice of Republicans for their party's 1976 nomination, with 24 per cent naming him as their favorite candidate. Second in that poll was New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller with 16 per cent.

Kennedy was the top choice of Democrats as their party's 1976 candidate in a midsummer Gallup survey He was chosen by 40 per cent of Democrats, followed by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace with 16 per cent.

Du banquet tonight

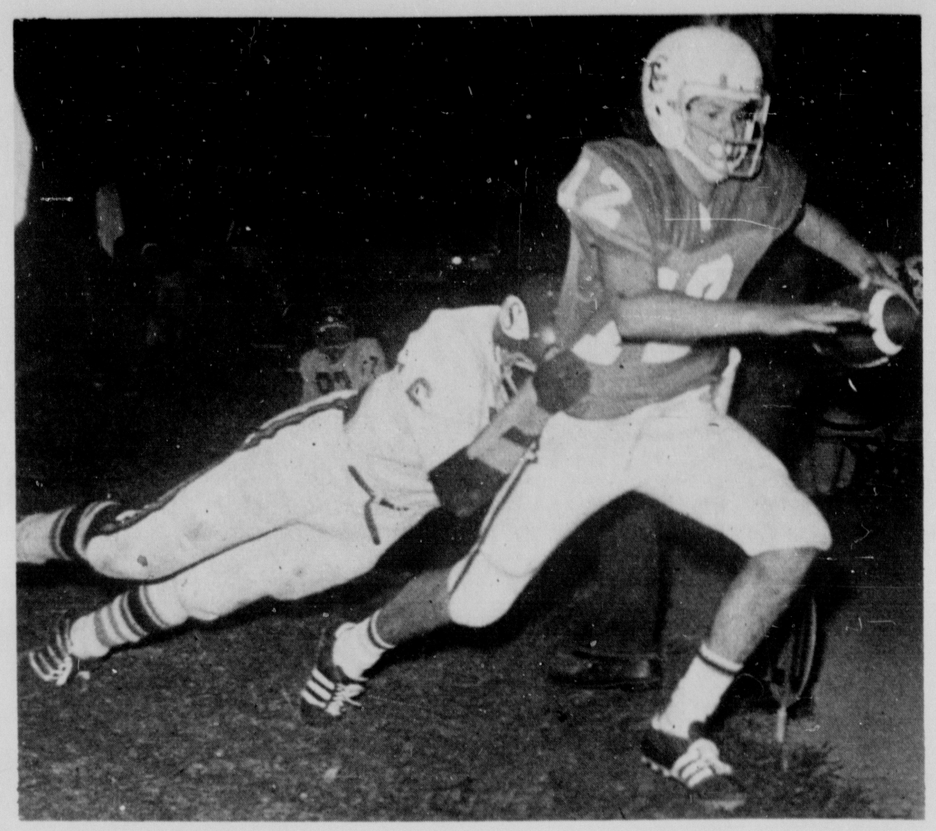

Jim Tom Blair, chairman of the Missouri Conservation Commission and a well-known Missouri sportsman, will be the master of ceremonies tonight at the first annual fund- raising banquet sponsored by the Swampeast Missouri Chapter of Ducks Unlimited at the Sikeston Ramada Inn.

Among other prominent sportsmen attending the "dinner for ducks" will be St. Louis Cardinal greats' Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst.

Crutcher said today that ticket sales have ended because the banquet room seating capacity of about 500 was reached. He said the event will be an annual affair.

Ducks Unlimited was founded 36 years ago by hunters to finance restoration of Canadian marshlands where 80 per cent of the continent's ducks are hatched annually. Since then, Ducks Unlimited water conservation projects have provided more than 2,000,000 acres of prime nesting habitat.

The continental duck population has remained at about 125 million for the past three years, compared to a low of 28 million in the drought years of the yearly 1930's before the waterfowl conservation organization was founded.

I gots ya....

Sikeston's Curtis Bonds chases Cape Central quarterback Bill Seabaugh out of bounds after a small gainer Friday night. Seabaugh was injured on the play but completed the first half and rested the second half as the Bengals recorded a 28-7 victory over the Bulldogs.

Red Heads to CHS

CHARLESTON — Moore's All- American Red Heads will try o add the Charleston High School Booster Club to its victory list Oct. 30 when the women cagers engage in battle with the Booster members headed by the rotund Herb Marshall.

It was only a week ago that the Red Heads had rolled over the Lilbourn high school faculty.

The Booster club roster is incomplete at the present time as a membership drive is underway, but it has been learned that the CHS Boosters have been in secret practice session for over three months.

Advance tickets for the event can be obtained from any Booster Club member. Tickets at the gate will be higher.

Don't miss it ... Coach Marshall promises an exciting evening.

Pirates hold off Indians

KENNETT — Coach Bob Decker's Perryville Pirates put together their best offensive game of the season Friday night as they defeated the Indians 21-0. The Pirates controlled the ball much of the game with a defensive unit that was excellent.

Perryville scored in the first quarter when quarterback Darrell Nixwonger ran 24 yards on an option play. Danny Webb kicked the extra point. Near the end of the first half, Niswonger teamed up with Richard Kramer for a 34 yard screen pass. Niswonger converted the extra point. The final score of the contest came in the third period when Niswonger again scored on an option play, this time for four yards. He kicked the extra point which was his fourteenth point of the game.

The Pirates had a total offense of 417 yard compared to Kennett's 108. Perryville rushed for 329 yards and passed for 88 yards. The Indians were able to scramble for 48 yards and passed for 60 yards.

Indians protest

FESTUS — In a protested game that resulted because the official time keeper failed to stop the clock after Jackson had called a time out and the referee had signaled thus, the Festus Tigers defeated Jackson 24-20 Friday night. A final decision on whether to continue the protest has not been made.

Jackson got on the score board first when halfback Loren Sides ran 28 yards for a touchdown. Rob Litz kicked the extra point. Richard Lucas of Festus scored later in the first period on a 55 yard run with Hoganhauser booting the conversion. Before the period ended Festus kicked a field goal of 18 yards.

Festus scored in the second quarter on a razzle-dazzle play. The Tigers set up on the 35 yard line for a field goal, but threw out of the field goal to Andy Cox who scored the touchdown. Hoganhauser kicked the extra point to give Festus a 17-7 lead at half time.

Jackson started the second half by forcing Festus to fumble the ball. Loren Sides scored on a four yard run with Litz kicking the extra point. The Tigers were unable to move the ball and turned it over to the Indians. Loren Sides broke loose on a 96 yard romp and scored his third touchdown of the evening. Litz missed the extra point.

The final quarter saw Festus' Ernest Brown plunge one yard for the winning score with Hoganhauser kicking the extra point. Jackson did not give in and with 46 seconds left on the clock Mark Jones faded back to pass and threw the ball to his receiver. The receiver and defender caught the ball simultaneously and when the wrestling match was over Festus had intercepted the ball and started to move from their two yard line.

The largest difference between the teams were the number of plays executed. Festus was able to get off 64 while Jackson could only muster 32 offensive plays.

Indians lead MIAA

William Jewell established itself as the kingpin in the Heart of America football race with a 28- 23 victory over Missouri Valley and Southeast Missouri took the Missouri Intercollegiate Atheltic Association lead with a 23- 13 triumph over Lincoln Saturday.

In other MIAA play, Central Missouri, 2- 2, tripped Missouri- Rolla 28- 15 and Northwest Missouri 3- 1, nipped Northeast Missouri, 7- 6. Southwest Missouri went outside the league and suffered a 42- 14 defeat at Evansville, Ind.

Missouri's two other members of the HOA had pleasant outings; Tarkio crushed Baker 48- 0 and Central Methodist surprised Graceland 28- 15.

Missouri independents fared poorly. Missouri Western lost to Kearney, Neb., 16- 9, Missouri Southern went down to highly regarded Emporia, Kan., State 30- 24 and Culver- Stockton was buried by powerful Millikin, Ill., 62- 6.

Mike Thebeau threw three touchdown passes and connected on 20 of 35 passes for 304 yards in Jewell's conquest. The Cardinals remained undefeated in eight games, including five in the HOA. Valley dropped to 4- 1 in the conference and 7- 1 over- all.

Southeast's Dennis Schomehl intercepted a pass and scampered nine yards for a touchdown with 3:10 left to cinch the Indians third conference victory without a defeat. Lincoln is 1- 1 in the MIAA and 3- 4 on the season.

Jim Maddick kicked the deciding extra point in the final minutes to give Northwest Missouri the edge over Northeast. The Bearcats' victory moved their conference mark to 3- 1 while Northeast dropped to 1- 2.

Next Saturday in the Heart of America, William Jewell goes to Baker in a night game while the other Missouri members are at home. Central Methodist hosts College of Emporia, Missouri Valley entertains Graceland and Tarkio faces Ottawa.

In MIAA play, Northwest Missouri challenges Southeast Missouri, Southwest Missouri goes to Northeast Missouri and Lincoln is at Central Missouri. Missouri- Rolla travels to independent Washington University.

In a battle of independents, Missouri Southern tackles Missouri Western. Culver- Stockton travels to Nebraska to take on Peru State.

South wins

SOUTH PEMISCOT — The results of this week's game was the same as last only with the points difference being reduced. South Pemiscot defeated the Bulldogs of Gideon Friday night 19-14.

The scoring for South Pemiscot was done by Roger Autry who scored two touchdowns and David Taylor who scored one touchdown and kicked the extra point.

Mark Lemar and Dorcey Brown of Gideon each scored a touchdown and Joe Gilkey booted the two extra points.

Mizzou upset

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)— Coach Eddie Crowder said he had his coaches and team spend seven hours Friday designing one play for use against Missouri's brutal goal line defense. It payed off with the winning touchdown Saturday as CU upset the Tigers 17- 13.

The play, an inside trap, sprung reserve fullback Jim Kelleher over the goal from four yards out with less than two minutes left in the game. The score capped a four- play drive that began with a Missouri fumble on the CU 24 yard line.

"I was supposed to go a little to the left, then cut back," said Kelleher. "But the blocking was so good it opened up right in front of me and I just barreled straight through."

Crowder said he had his offensive coaches dissect the Tiger defense within the 10- yard line.

"We figured out the reason that nobody has been able to beat Missouri so far this year is the fact the team is so gouth inside the 10- yard line," said a jubilant Crowder.

Buffalo quarterback Clyde Crutchmer ignited the 76- yard drive with a short pass to tight end J. V. Cain, and then sprinted 41 yards on the next play when Missouri's pass defense dropped deep.

"I just started running and ran and ran," said Crutchmer, who got all the way to the Tiger 18 before John Mosley brought him down.

"Their linebackers started dropping off, their linemen started to go around the blockers and this left several lanes wide open."

Crutchmer, who rushed a total of 15 times for 66 yards but only finished with 54 yards in the air on five of nine attempts, then connected on a pass to Steve Haggerty at the four to set up Crowder's special trap play.

The victory pulled the Buffs into a three- way tie with Missouri and Kansas for second place in the Big Eight standings behind unbeaten Oklahoma.

Jay Lemons of Dexter turns the corners and heads for the open field with a Poplar Bluff Mule in hot pursuit. Dexter pulled the upset Friday night with a 21-20 victory over the Mules.

DURHAM, N. H. (AP) — Massachusetts is the Yankee Conference cross country champion for the fourth year in a row.

The Minutemen captured six of the first nine places and retained the title with 22 points Saturday as their Randy Thomas captured individual honors. Connecticut was second in team scoring with 44 points, followed by Vermont with 89.

PROVIDENCE' R. I. (AP) — Providence College is the winner of the Eastern Intercollegiate Cross Country Championship for the sixth consecutive year.

Freshman Mike O'Shea, Ireland's 1,500- meter champion, captured first place in leading Providence to the title Saturday. The Friars had a low score of 68 points.

Fertilizer production crisis documented in recent study

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Senators Hubert H. Humphrey and Walter D. Huddleston have jointly released a background study on the domestic and foreign elements affecting U. S. agricultural policy.

The report was prepared by the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in connection with a series of hearings the two Senators have launched on world food policies.

Upon releasing the report, Huddleston, chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Agricultural Production, Marketing and Stabilization of Prices, stated, "Current U. S. and world food supply prospects are forcing us to get back to the basics of life -- our daily bread. The age of abundance is over."

And he warned that "unless the world soon learned to become better managers in the production and distribution of food, much of it may be faced with major shortages and famine in the not too distant future."

Humphrey, chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Foreign Agricultural Policy termed the report "most revealing" in underscoring the current uncertainties regarding the availability of major agricultural products, such as heat, feed grains, rice and high protein supplies.

He urged that it be carefully reviewed by all who either have a responsibility for, or are interested in, the decisions which will determine the future course of the nation's food and agricultural policy.

Huddleston and Humphrey said the report documents:

--the crisis facing the nation today as a result of the shortage of natural gas and petroleum products which are essential for the production of nitrate and phosphate fertilizer;

--the limited amounts of cropland and grazing lands available in the U.S. for expanded crop and livestock production;

--the changing structure inthe number, ownership and size of farms, wholesale and retailing firms and the volume of futures trading in farm commodities.

"But this report also demonstrates how little our government seems to know about changes that are occurring in our nation's rural transportation system and on-farm grain storage capacity," they said.

"Yet these developments will critically affect our ability to move agricultural supplies and harvests in the future."

And they further stressed that last week's food hearings, which they conducted, had revealed that the government has little or no research underway to provide further information about current world weather changes and their likely affects on future U.S. and world production patterns.

Huddleston and Humphrey state that they will be looking into such question when their joint hearings on the world food shortage resume, probably sometime next month.

Democratic fund raisers

Missouri's top Democrats discuss creation of a "Democratic Committee of 10,000" to raise funds for operating expenses and future campaigns on a pledge basis ranging from $10 yearly to those designated as "Mule Skinner members" at $1000 annually. Chairmen of the effort are Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick (left) and State Treasurer James I. Spainhower (right). U. S. Senators Thomas F. Eagleton and Stuart Symington will serve as honorary chairmen. Missouri's nine Democratic congressmen, state legislative leaders, mayors, county and other officials will help direct activities of the committee.

12 arrests announced

Edward McCall, 504 W. Murray Lane was cited for not having a city sticker; James M. Lloyd, Halfway Trailer Courts, no valid motorcycle license; Charles Beal, 411 Shady Lane, driving while intoxicated; John McGill of Anniston, driving while intoxicated; John Thomas Schaffer of Bertrand, peace disturbance.

Undra West, 1406 W. North St., was arrested for not having a city sticker; Jessie Greer, 204 Sunset, petit larceny; Robert Laminack of Morehouse, speeding; Rendy Jenkins, 212 Luther, threatening phone calls; Earnest Green, 206 Felker, public intoxication and disorderly conduct; and Willie Hass Rule, Route Four, driving while intoxicated.

Orbie Smith of Morehouse, assault with intent to commit rape and molesting a minor.

New contraceptives predicted

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — By 1978 women could be trying out a revolutionary contraceptive capsule which would last for more than three years, and men could be practicing birth control through an injection administered every three to six months, an expert predicted Wednesday.

Prof. Rodney Shearman of the department of obstetrics and gynecology of Sydney University, Australia, said the capsule for women would be implanted in the arm or the buttock. It would gradually dissolve and would not have to be removed, he told the 21st annual conference of the Internationkl Planned Parenthood Federation.

The 500 delegates from more than 100 countries heard that birth control injections for men are already being tested in the United States and are due to start soon in Australia. Shearman did not specify where these experiments are being carried out.

18 die on Missouri highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eighteen persons lost their lives over the weekend on Missouri roads.

Five perished Saturday in a head-on collision on Interstate 44 in the St. Louis suburb of Fenton when an eastbound car traveling at more than 100 miles per hour jumped the grassy median into the west bound lane.

Four members of an Overland, Mo., family were killed and two others were critically injured. A passenger in the eastbound car was killed.

The victims were Orville Bunton, 30; his wife, Joyce, also 30; their children, Orville Jr., 7, and Sherry, 5 months, and Terry Buckston, 20, of south St. Louis County.

Still in critical condition at a St. Louis County hospital were 4- year - old Roger Bunton and his sister, Dolly, 2.

The driver of the eastbound car, identified as Kenneth Thompson, 23, St. Louis, also remained in critical condition. Police said his auto sideswiped two other cars before meeting the Bunton auto head-on. However, none of the occupants of the other cars was injured.

Four persons died in two other accidents.

Paul Pulley, 19, Lebanon, Mo., and Ray Buttram, 17, Niangua, Mo., were killed early Sunday when their car crossed the median on Interstate 44 and collided with a truck, the highway patrol said. The accident scene was six miles east of Marshfield.

A Quincy, Ill., couple died Saturday when their truck overturned on Missouri 6 near Durham in northeast Missouri. They were David Miller, 23, and his wife, Catherine, 22.

The other weekend victims:

Sunday - Gary Ray Smith, 17, Bernie, Mo., struck by a car on Stoddard County Route Z just east of Bernie.

Saturday - Dr. Max Rosen, Springfield physician, in a four-car accident on U. S. 65 two miles north of Springfield; Richard Doyle, 23, Miami, Fla., as he crossed Interstate 70 near St. Louis; Frank Russell Sr., 79, St. Louis; Frank Russell Sr., 79, St. Louis, in a car- truck collision in St. Louis; Randall McClain, 17, Ferguson, Mo., in a one- car accident in St. Louis County; Floyd G. Duncan, 51, Kansas City, whose truck struck a bridge abutment on Interstate 29 in Kansas City.

Friday night- George Hill, 34, Camdenton fireman, killed when a fire truck overturned on an emergency run; Steve Alkire, 18, Graham, in a one-car accident near his home; Judy Arthur, 26, Plattsburg, Mo., in a one- car accident on U. S. 169 in Kansas City.

Buchanan says networks have too much power

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House aide Patrick Buchanan said today that the broadcast networks have too much power in U.S. news reporting.

"Every legal and constitutional means ought to be considered to break up that dominance, in order to spread it out so that you decentralize power in this area," Buchanan, a key speechwriter for President Nixon, said in a interview on the CBS-TV "Morning News."

Calling for legislation to allow for more competition in major broadcast reporting, Buchanan added, "That would be my view, not that of the administration."

Buchanan said journalists created a confrontation during Nixon's news conference Friday night. "The mood was like Sunday afternoon in the Tijuana bullring," he said.

Meanwhile, in another dispute between the White House and the news media, the administration objected to an article in the Newsweek magazine edition appearing on the newstands today.

The article says federal and congressional investigators are looking into the possibility that Nixon may have manipulated some family-owned property transactions to minimize the capital gains tax due.

The White House called the article a "collection of rumors" and said it "is false and extremely irresponsible in its implications and in the way it was developed."

Abraham Lincoln's school attendance was very limited, amounting probably in all to less than one year.

Promotions, transfer announced in Troop E

POPLAR BLUFF — Three promotions and the transfer of another officer to Poplar Bluff, all effective on Nov. 1, have been announced by Capt. Wayne C. Brooks, commander of the Missouri State Highway Patrol's Troop E.

Cpl. Robert G. Mouser, 43, a desk officer at Troop E Headquarters, has been promoted to sergeant and will remain as a desk officer.

Trooper Melvin E. Duckworth, 31, Polygraph (lie detector) operator at the headquarters and a criminal investigator, was promoted to corporal and will remain assigned to his present duties.

Cpl. Lester O. Enderle, 42, who has been assistant commander of the Portageville Zone, has been transferred to Poplar Bluff and assigned in charge of the commercial motor vehicle enforcement for the Troop E area. Enderle replaces Lt. Gene Lemonds of Poplar Bluff, who recently was transferred to the Sikeston Satellite office.

Succeeding Enderle as assistant commander of the Portageville Zone will be Trooper H. A. Campbell, presently stationed at Portageville, who also was promoted to corporal.

Mouser, a native of Zalma and former Stoddard countian, was appointed to the patrol in 1958 and was stationed at Jackson until his assignment to Poplar Bluff in February of 1970.

He is a 32nd Degree Scottish rite Mason and an Army veteran. The sergeant and his wife,the former Loretta Coffeey of the Essex area, reside at 2126 Sunset.

The Mousers have three children: Debra, 18, Robert, Jr., 13, and Terri Dawn, 9.

Duckworth, of 2639 Shady Lane, is a native of Savannah, Tenn. He was appointed to the Patrol in 1966 and stationed at Malden until his transfer to Poplar Bluff last January.

Duckworth and his wife, the former Sue Ann Klinkhardt of Hayti, have two children; David Joseph, age 10, and Gina Dianne, 4.

Cpl. Enderle is a native of Kelso and has been a trooper since 1958. He was first stationed at Dexter and was sent to Portageville three years ago.

Enderle is a veteran of U. S. Army service. His wife is the former Patricia Ressel of Kelso.

Balloons travel far

Mrs. Thomas "Lady" Lawfield of East Prairie holds aloft a group of balloons tied to a hat that apparently traveled the airways from Okmulgee, Okla., a distance of about 400 miles. The balloons, inscribed with the name of an Okmulgee firm, were found in a field near East Prairie by Randy "PeeWee" Lawfield, left, and Joe Hall of New Madrid, right. The two men were planting wheat when they stumbled across the balloons in a field. The hat still bore a 98- cent price tag.

Retail cost of farm-produce food declines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The annual retail cost of a market basket of farm-produced food declined $24 in September, the sharpest drop in 17 years, according to government figures released Thursday.

The price decline, the first of the year, would have been much greater if middlemen had passed along all the squeeze absorbed by farmers, the figures indicated.

As computed by the Agriculture Department, the cost of an entire year's food supply for a theoretical household of 3.2 persons was $1,629 in September, down 1.5 per cent from the record of $1,653 in August.

The farmer's share of the market basket dropped to $744 from the August peak of $839, a decline of $95 or 11.3 per cent in one month.

Ambulance situation presented to Lions

Members of the Sikeston Lions Club were brought up to date on the ambulance crisis Wednesday by Lynn Lancaster of the Bootheel Regional Comprehensive Health Council and Harold Jones, administrator of Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Jones stated that this area had been serviced well for many years by the funeral homes in the area. He stated that this area was one of the most fortunate in the state of Missouri because of the dedication of these individuals.

Senate Bill No. 57, which provides new guidelines for emergency delivery systems, was designed with the hope that lives could be saved across the state, particularly in those areas where ambulance services has been lacking.

Inasmuch as funeral homes will not provide ambulance services much longer, Jones said the hospital has been approached by County Courts from Scott and New Madrid Counties, Sikeston City officials and other interested persons, including representatives of the Jaycees asking the hospital to consider establishing an emergency delivery system at the hospital.

The hospital expressed its willingness to accept the responsibility of providing the service if the political subdivisions would be willing to guarantee funding for the operation deficits, if any. That part of the agreement is now being worked out, Jones stated.

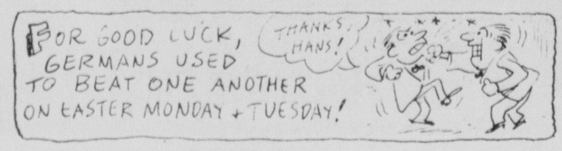

Lancaster, representing the comprehensive health organization, reported that application had been filed with the State Division of Health for matching funds to be used for the purchase of ambulances.

Even though there are many applications on file with the State Division of Health, Lancaster thinks there is a good possibility this area will be awarded matching funds.

Lancaster said emergency care delivery systems will affect the entire community and should be the concern of every citizen. When the new ambulance law goes into affect, the vehicle and personnel must be properly equipped and trained to begin providing emergency care to the patient at the pickup scene.

It is felt that this in itself will undoubtedly save lives and in many cases alleviate suffering.

Jones suggested that the hospital had no alternative but to assist with the emergency care delivery system, particularly since there is a great possibility that many lives can be saved through this effort.

Impeachment favored, says Chicago poll

CHICAGO (AP) — Persons answering a Chicago Sun-Times write-in poll overwhelmingly favored impeachment last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The response, reported in the newspaper's Sunday editions, favored impeachment 6 to 1.

Almost 84 per cent, or 7,010 of the 8,390 responses, voted "yes" for impeachment.

The newspaper said 7,050 favored the appointment of a new special Watergate prosecutor to replace Archibald Cox, who was dismissed by Nixon.

The poll was tabulated before Nixon's Friday night news conference at which he said a new prosecutor would be appointed.

About 17 per cent voted against impeachment and 15 per cent were against a new prosecutor.

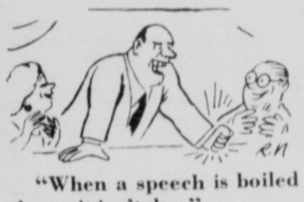

The Sun-Times reported that ballots returned after Nixon announced he would turn over the controversial White House tapes over to Judge John J. Sirica still favored impeachment almost 6 to 1.

More About Coffee Dangers

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Recently I received a letter from the Coffee Information Institute. Their letter in part is as follows:

". . . you describe caffeine as a drug that belongs to the same group of drugs as amphetamines, commonly called 'speed.' Since caffeine is a member of the xanthine group of drugs and 'speed' is a name commonly applied to methamphetamine hydrochloride, we are unable to find a scientific basis for the relationship you suggest. Could you please furnish our office with the medical documentation for your statement?

"In the same column . . . you discuss an increase in 'acid pepsin juice' by the stomach as a result of consuming caffeine beverages . . . we would like to obtain the medical references upon which you base your suggestions that coffee, tea or cola beverages 'may cause indigestion' and other gastrointestinal ailments."

Fair enough. The public should have the references too.

The American Medical Assn.'s Council on Drugs published the AMA Drug Evaluation text in 1971 and the chapter on analeptics, that group of drugs which stimulate the brain, includes caffeine and the amphetamine group. All competent pharmacologists know that caffeine and the amphetamines belong to the group of drugs called analeptics. So much for that.

"Speed" is a slang term commonly employed for amphetamine. Slang is inexact, but common usage is the rule. Time magazine (December 18, 1972) and in the same week, Newsweek, both use "speed" as slang for amphetamine, which serves as one index of common usage. So much for that.

The marked effect of caffeine on stimulating excessive amounts of acid pepsin juice formed by the stomach is well established. The pharmacology text written by Drs. Goodman and Gillman is often considered the Bible in medical schools. These are their quotes, ". . . in cats and humans moderate doses of caffeine result in a prolonged augmentation of gastric secretion . . . in view of the responsiveness of the human gastric mucosa to caffeine, cognizance must be taken of the ubiquitous use of coffee and cola beverages in the pathogenesis of peptic ulcer, and in the management of the ulcer patient . . . There is also evidence that individuals with a predisposition toward peptic ulcers, or patients with peptic ulcers who are in remission, exhibit an abnormal response. A patient with an active peptic ulcer should restrict his intake of caffeine-containing beverages. Individauls with peptic ulcer should consume their coffee (if at all) during meals, well diluted with cream because the buffering capacity of coffee is negligible."

And finally in referring to caffeine and other drugs of the "xanthine" group Goodman and Gilman's text states, "Overindulgence in xanthine beverages may lead to a condition which might be considered one of chronic poisoning. Central nervous stimulation results in restlessness and disturbed sleep; myocardial stimulation is reflected in cardiac irregularities, especialiy premature systoles, and in palpitation and tachycardia. The essential oils of coffee may cause some gastrointestinal irritation, and diarrhea is a common symptom."

Enough said.

To consider reorganization

Support mounts for special session

By SEN. NELSON B. TINNIN

JEFFERSON CITY — Support seems to be mounting among Missouri lawmakers for a special session of the State Legislature later this year to ponder what many consider to be the state's No. 1 problem, reorganization of the executive branch of state government.

In a special session lawmakers would be able to concentrate on reorganization without being distracted by other potential state enigmas. In the last regular session, after spending most of the time on reorganization which the House and Senate agreed on and, the governor vetoed, the House and Senate could not go about the people's business.

The state constitution needs to be amended to allow lawmakers to call a special session when there are special problems concerning the people. As the law now stands, a special session can only be called by the governor. If no special session is called, lawmakers may return to Jefferson City in January with three reorganization bills still to consider.

The Senate Reorganization Committee, which worked hours and hours on the plan last year, is drafting another reorganization measure. The author of the House Reorganization Bill in the last session is again drafting his version and the governor promises to offer his own plan to the 1974 legislature. The bill that was passed last year was a compromise version between the House and Senate.

Vetoing the compromise bill which was the best ideas of 163 representatives and 34 senators and was nonpartisan is going to cost the state taxpayers many thousand of dollars.

In the final vote on the measure in the Senate, Republicans as well as Democrats voted for the bill, and all the hard work and long hours on the bill will go down the drain unless a compromise can be reached with the governor. But, as it now stands, it looks like compromise has been thrown to the winds.

Reorganization becomes effective July 1, 1974, even if no plan is passed by the legislature and signed by the governor.

It will take a lot of time to physically change the executive branch to coincide with an approved plan before July 1.

The problems of budgeting and appropriations will be almost insurmountable if we have to wait until January 1974 to get started on reorganization.

My office received around 1,800 letters last year concerning the teachers retirement fund having its own office and separate funds. We worked very hard to keep it from being moved and dumped in with all other state retirement funds— then the governor vetoed the State Reorganization plan as passed by the House and Senate so the teachers are right back where they were — not knowing where their fund is going.

The legislature passed a Senate bill which gave the Teachers Retirement Board the right to pay its own rent and maintain its own building — but that will be null and void if the fund is thrown in with all retirement funds as was the administration's recommendation during the last session. The Teachers Retirement Board and so many legislators fought to keep equipment from being moved into the Department of Administration.

The Instructional Television Council met at the Crown Center Hotel in Kansas City Sept. 6.

At the last meeting in St. Louis, in early August, we made the recommendation to Commissioner Arthur Mallory that he seek support from the State Board of Education and include $60,000 in his budget to set up plans for State Educational TV.

Many ideas were advanced in order to help schools to become interested in using ETV to supplement their teaching programs in all areas of teaching.

One question raised by me was that some teachers were concerned about ETV replacing teachers.

The answer given was if ETV did, they should be replaced anyway.

Teachers serve a key role in helping make the program succeed or fail.

Children could, if given an opportunity, help teachers in planning or scheduling some ETV programs.

The ideas of charts or pictures are worth a thousand words was emphasized when it was demonstrated by a TV program portraying a certain idea and the voice was a different idea. When children were asked what they learned from the picture, they answered what the picture taught rather than the words given at the same time.

The State Department of Education was asked to determine what percentage of the entire state school population could be covered by cable TV from St. Louis, Kansas City, Columbia and Springfield.

The Missouri Instructional Television Council recommended to the State Department of Education that they should ask The State Board of Education for approval of a state ETV program and to finance the program by requesting $4 per student for participating schools. This would be about $4 million because Missouri has about one million school children.

Filming of some of the career vocations are already in the process of being made and the State Department of Education is cooperating with this program.

Each member of the committee was given a programing guide used by KETC- TV, Channel 9, St. Louis, and KCPT, Channel 19, Kansas City.

The Council of State Governments is an annual meeting of state legislators and state officials. The meeting this year was held in Rapid City, S. D. This is one of the two national meetings I try to attend. I have already reported the meeting of the education commission of the states.

The main theme of this meeting of the Council of State Governments was a study of the various state budgeting process. Many states do not budget as Missouri, but several states do have a similar process. No doubt, ours could be improved.

Of the 12 midwestern states attending that the budget process was the most nearly alike were Missouri, Illinois and Nebraska. No state can deficit spend as is done by the federal government.

One primary concern of these states was also the role the federal government plays in obligating the states in order to secure these funds which the states rightfully should share in anyway. The federal government does not seem to realize the position it puts the states in an order to receive these funds.

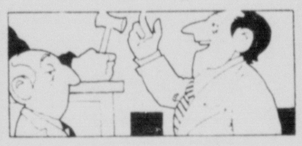

All legislators agree that the money received from federal funds should be appropriated by the state receiving the funds. State legislators attending were very critical of the federal government invading areas of direct state concern.

What's the law?

The case of the insulted lawyer

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

When it was announced that the original Perry Mason series had been discontinued on television, there were probably many a lawyer who welcomed the departure of so infallible an attorney.

Whiplash Willie wrote to a local newspaper. When the letter was published in the Voice of the Reader column, however, with an editorial comment to the effect: "What's the matter, Willie? Sounds like you haven't been winning too many cases lately?" Willie became highly insulted and sued the newspaper for libel.

"The comment attacked my professional competency," he charged, "and annihilated my legal reputation. As an attorney, I now command about as much respect as a Christmas tie."

"That's absurd," responded the editor of the newspaper. "The comment was as harmless as a toothless tiger. It was made in jest and that's just how the public accepted it. Willie's trying to make a storm out of a single raindrop and he shouldn't be allowed to do it."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit the insulted lawyer to collect for libel?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that Willie's letter was apparently intended to indicate that he considered the Perry- Mason program unrealistic. The editorial comment, in turn, was obviously meant to be a humorous reply and not an attack on his reputation of his legal talents. While the comment might have generated some amusement for Willie's friends and associates, concluded the judge, it was concededly a joke and could not possibly have injured him professionally or personally.

Today in U.S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Oct. 29, the 302nd day of 1973. There are 63 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1929, the New York stock market collapsed, setting off the worst financial crisis in the nation's history.

Also, on this date:

In 1618, Sir Walter Raleigh was executed in London, charged with treason against King James I.

In 1814, the first steam warship was launched. It was built by Robert Fulton for the U.S. Navy.

In 1923, the Republic of Turkey was proclaimed.

In 1940, numbers were drawn for the first peacetime draft in the history of the United States.

Missourian to hold art exhibit

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Artists within a 125-mile radius of this city have been invited to display their paintings in the 27th annual Missourian Art Exhibition, Nov. 17 through Dec. 1.

This will be the first time that the exhibition, sponsored by the Southeast Missourian and held in the newspaper building at 301 Broadway, has been extended for two weeks. All previous shows have been on one weekend. In another change from previous years, the exhibition will occupy the second floor area of the building recently vacated by the newsroom.

Hours for the exhibition are 1 to 9 o'clock Saturday evening, Nov. 17, 10 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Sunday, Nov. 22, and during regular office hours 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. the following two weeks ending on Dec. 1.

Both amateur and professional artists are included, although each is limited to two entries. Participating artists have been asked to bring their entries to The Missourian office during business hours, 8:00 to 5, Oct. 29 through Nov. 6. Those interested in entering work in the show may obtain entry blanks from Miss Marjorie A. Suedekum, Art Director, The Missourian, Cape Girardeau. 63701.

No entry fee is charged, no prizes offered, no jury employed, and no commission charged on any sales made. Purpose of the annual event is to make it possible for area artists to display their work, and for area residents to see the results of their efforts. More than 2,500 persons annually attend the show, viewing some 300 paintings in varying media.

Program advises senior citizens of tax reliefs

JEFFERSON CITY— The Missouri Department of Revenue has begun a statewide informational program to advise senior citizens of their eligibility for tax relief under the new "Circuit Breaker" law, James R. Spradling, director, said today.

Spradling said, "The Department of Revenue has established a newly- formed agency, the Senior Citizens Credit Group, to help implement the Circuit Breaker and assist senior citizens in obtaining tax relief under this new law.

"Thousands of brochures giving details of the Circuit Breaker have been printed and now are available to senior citizens who desire to know the provisions for tax relief. These brochures can be obtained by writing to:

The Missouri Department of Revenue
Senior Citizens Credit Group
P. O. Box 500
Jefferson City, Missouri 65101

In addition to distribution of the brochures, the Senior Citizens Credit Group has prepared a special tax form with instructions for senior citizens. The form has been designated "Schedule SC-Senior Citizens Income Tax Credit Claim."

The Senior Citizens Credit Group also will administer an extensive taxpayer assistance program throughout Missouri. Members of the Department of Revenue also will hold news conferences and make speeches before senior citizens' organizations and interested groups.

Spradling said, "An estimated 150,000 senior citizens are expected to file for tax relief through the Circuit Breaker, which was enacted this year by the Missouri General Assembly and signed by Governor Bond. These claims for tax relief are to be made on returns that must be filed on or before April 15, 1974.

"The specially prepared Schedule SC tax form for senior citizens will be distributed by mail in December. They also will be made available for pickup at various public locations whose addresses will be announced later."

Senior citizens who fail to receive the special tax form through the mail, or senior citizens who are unable to travel to a public location where the forms are distributed, can obtain one by writing to the Senior Citizens Credit Group, whose address is furnished in this release.

The eligibility requirements for qualifying for tax relief under the Circuit Breaker are that the senior citizen:

(1) must be, or his spouse must be, 65 years of age or over by December 31, 1973;

(2) have been a Missouri resident for the entire 1973 calendar year;

(3) have had household income of not more than $7,500 (this includes income from all sources, even that which is exempt from income tax, such as social security, pensions, welfare payments, etc.);

(4) own or rent the homestead occupied during 1973.

The Circuit Breaker is designed to ease the financial difficulties of senior citizens who have low incomes but still pay rising property taxes or rent. This new law provides a credit against the Missouri income tax or a cash refund, if the claimant meets the eligibility requirements for qualifying for tax relief.

It is estimated that claims for tax relief under the Circuit Breaker will total about $13.5 million.

The Israeli command said its jet fighters were sent up to intercept the Egyptian helicopters over an Israeli position a few miles south of the Egyptian 3rd Army, which is encircled on the Sinai side of the Suez Canal.

The communique said the planes hit two of the helicopters and antiaircraft gunners brought down a third.

On the west side of the canal Sunday, 100 Egyptian trucks with U.N. drivers began passing through the Israeli lines 60 miles from Cairo with food, water and medical supplies for the 3rd Army and the thousands of civilians trapped in Suez, the Egyptian town at the southern end of the canal.

The first convoy of 10 trucks was reported to have reached the canal by midnight, but a U.N. spokesman in Jerusalem said at 7 a.m. that he had no word that it had crossed to the Egyptian troops on the east side.

Another convoy of 10 trucks pulled into Suez, where Israeli soldiers said there were 15,000 civilians.

The Israelis said Sunday that Egyptian artillery had opened up on the first convoys, apparently by mistake, There were no casualties.

Advance units of the U. N. peacekeeping force also arrived at Suez and Ismailia and began making arrangements to bring in larger units to police the cease- fire.

Trials delayed

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—The federal trials of three men charged in connection with the bizzare bank robbery-murders of a Grandin, Mo., banker and two members of his family have been withdrawn from the U.S. District Court docket here.

The trials were scheduled to begin today before Judge James H. Meredith. But U.S. Atty. Donald J. Stohr said the trials for the three were being delayed until results of psychiatric examinations of two of the men were received.

Last month, Meredith granted 60-day periods for mental examinations to Dallas R. Delay, 33, of Valle Mines, Mo., and Jerry Wayne Rector, 22, of Van Buren.

Both Delay and Rector and the third man, Lloyd Cowin, 20, also of Van Buren, have already pleaded guilty to state charges of murder and are serving life sentences in connection with the Jan. 17 slaying of Robert Kitterman, his wife and their teenage daughter.

Delay faces federal charges of murder and bank robbery and Rector and Cowin face federal charges of bank robbery and kidnaping.

Stohr said it had been agreed that the trials of all three would be delayed until the mental reports were received. Although the men will be tried separately, Stohr said the trials will follow one another because the same witnesses are involved.

Another pedestrian, Kathy Sue Mattingly, 5, of Perryville was injured at 11:50 a.m. Sunday when she ran from the east shoulder of Highway 61 in Brewer into the path of a southbound car driven by David Leroy Schrumps, 26, of Perryville. The right front of the car struck the child.

The child received head injuries and possible internal injuries and was taken to Perryville County Memorial Hospital in Perryville.

Three persons were injured at 7:30 p.m. Saturday when a car driven by Olan David Porter Jr., 19, of New Madrid ran off the highway into a beanfield and overturned five miles south of East Prairie on Routt BB.

Injured were Theresa Kay Henson, 17, of Charleston, scratches on knee; Tammy Diann Hall, 16, of Charleston, facial cuts; and Ricky Gene Harris, 15, of New Madrid, possible chest injury. All three were taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

One person was injured in a three- car accident at 11:10 a.m. Saturday on Highway 67 two miles south of Poplar Bluff.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Raymond Little, 28, of Doniphan stopped behind another vehicle making left turn just over a hillcrest and was struck from behind a car driven by Patricia Pirc, 17, of Nellyville. A third car driven by William Garrett, 60, of Florissant ran into the back of the Pirc car.

Barbara Little, 25, of Doniphan received a possible neck injury and was taken to Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Ralston Purina is burglarized

NEW MADRID — The Ralston Purina Co. grain elevator on Highway 61 three miles north of New Madrid was burglarized between midnight Saturday and early Sunday morning, according to the New Madrid County sheriff's department.

Deputy Sheriff Flip Dees, who investigated with highway patrolman Ben Rappert, said today that the burglars gained entry by prying off a hasp on a back door and peeled a walk-in safe. Taken were $50 in cash and $50 worth of stamps.

Tom Henderson, a member of the 1972 Olympic basketball team, set a University of Hawaii single season scoring record last season with 515 points.
